

THE PACIFIC SLOPE SCARE.

Bankers and Capitalists Say Money Was Never So Scarce.

CLEARING-HOUSE CERTIFICATES AUTHORIZED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Depositors Hearing Their Money in Safety Deposit Vaults—Banks Not Lending a Dollar That Any Excess Can Be Framed for Refusing—New York Sends a Million and a Half by Wire to Stiffen California Banks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 22.—Ten days ago, when the New York Clearing-House deemed it necessary to issue loan certificates, the World correspondent called upon the leading bankers of this city for the purpose of obtaining their views on the scheme. Without exception they pronounced it a good move and said that it was just what was needed to prevent trouble in the East, but they all pool-pooled the idea of their being any necessity for the local clearing-house to take similar action.

At a meeting of the San Francisco Clearing-House yesterday exactly similar action was taken. It was decided to issue Clearing-House certificates on collateral security in cases of emergency, the securities to be deposited with a loan committee. This makes available the bills receivable and other securities of local banks for payment of balance due the Clearing-House.

The newspapers have carefully refrained from making any statement that would tend in the least to excite public fears, and it is generally thought this action of the Clearing-House will have the desired effect.

There is not a bank in San Francisco that is not perfectly sound, but they all have a large amount of money outstanding which it is impossible to call in immediately, and consequently few of them could stand a sudden run.

As an illustration of the precautionary measure being taken to guard against a squeeze and the difficulty in getting any money, even small amounts, from the banks, may be given the case of a gentleman in this city who a day or two ago tried to borrow $15,000 on $50,000 worth of gilt-edged securities, but was unable to do so. The banks, although well stocked with money, will not let any of it go if they can avoid it.

The whole trouble was brought about by a run on the Southern California Bank, the first of which to suffer were those of Riverside. Both of them were forced to suspend last Saturday. Nobody thought anything of this, but yesterday a run was started on the banks in other places, and consequently four at Los Angeles, two at San Diego and one at Anaheim closed their doors. These suspensions alarmed the San Francisco bankers to such an extent that a special meeting of the Clearing-House was called and the action taken above stated.

New York stretched its purse strings clear across the Continent yesterday. Allowing for the several millions in time deposits between the two cities, a million and a half of money was taken from the New York banks and placed on the Pacific slope. The money of the San Francisco banks, before business hours had come to the Pacific slope banks, had been made the property of the San Francisco Clearing-House. The San Francisco Clearing-House had been notified of the condition of affairs there, and one gold certificate amounting to $1,125,000 were handed in at the Clearing-House. Then came in a fine sum of $1,000,000 in gold certificates, and a telephone call from Mr. A. A. Hastings, Treasurer of the Clearing-House, was called up by Superintendent Jordan and Cashier Mauleman here, and within a few minutes the San Francisco Clearing-House had sent to the San Francisco Mint to pay out the amount in currency to the banks. Other gold certificates, between $500,000 and $600,000 in currency partly by wire to San Francisco. Since June 7, when the movement began, New York has sent to San Francisco $2,522,000 through the sub-treasury.

Apert from the call from California no part of the country has been asked for money. In this city there were increased demands for accommodation under the Clearing-House loan plan. The total of the certificates now outstanding reaches $4,900,000.

An expert says that a part of the local money tightness is due to the action of the savings banks in locking up currency. One estimate places the amount thus under lock and key at ten millions, with fully half this sum in the hands of two institutions.

The Coudage statement did not fall very favorably on the speculative world. The demand for money is so great that the banks are refusing to accept any more deposits, because they had no faith in anything that those having control of the property had.

CHICAGO'S FIRST MASSACRE.

Harrison Speaks at the Unveiling of a Monument on the 11th.

CHICAGO, June 22.—A splendid bronze memorial group, the gift of George M. Pullman to the city of Chicago, was unveiled this afternoon on the site of the Fort Dearborn massacre of 1812. It is on the shore of Lake Michigan at Eighteenth street, near the residence of Mr. Pullman. The oration was delivered by ex-President Harrison, who spoke extemporaneously.

The ex-President said: Chicago is excited today, lifted up to a pinnacle that few cities in the world have reached. The nation, great and small, all races and tongues, have sent their official representatives, with their choicest products in art and handicraft, to this hour of glory. The unveiling of this monument is a fitting tribute to the memory of the brave men and women who in 1812, in the face of a hostile army, fought for the freedom of the West. TO ANTICIPATE JULY INTEREST.

Secretary Carlisle Will Relieve Corrupted Money Centers.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Carlisle to-day directed Treasurer Morgan to anticipate the payment of the July interest on the 4 per cent. United States bonds and on the Pacific Railroad bonds.

The Secretary announces that payment may be made as fast as delivery of the checks can be effected, and the Treasurer of the United States and the several Assistant Treasurers have been notified accordingly. Holders of 4 per cent. coupons due July 1 may, therefore, now present them for payment without rebate, and owners of checks for July interest may have them cashed as soon as received.

The total interest on both classes of bonds aggregates $7,534,000, of which $1,000,000 is for the Pacific Railroad bonds and $6,534,000 for the 4 per cent. bonds. This action of Secretary Carlisle is taken to relieve the tightness in money centers.

WORKMEN'S SAVINGS INVOLVED.

Close of a Private Bank in Ridgway, Pa.

RIDGWAY, Pa., June 22.—The Ridgway Bank, a private institution, to-day posted the following notice on its doors:

Owing to the present depressed financial situation, rendering it impossible for the bank to continue its operations, the directors of the bank have decided to close the same. The best interests of all creditors of the bank will be served by the prompt payment of their claims. We believe the assets of the bank to be in excess of its liabilities, and that the same will be paid in full as soon as the assets can be realized on. A full statement of the condition of the bank as soon as same can be prepared.

A gentleman has been in communication with the officials of the bank during the night, estimating the assets at $100,000 and the liabilities at $100,000. The confidence of working people, many of whom have all their savings in the bank's care.

A FALSE BOTTOM IN THE BOX.

Shaker Nasser Made the Mistake of Asking for a Reappraisal.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 22.—Early in May Surveyor of Customs Hines reappraised some Oriental goods belonging to Shaker Nasser and Assad Ghobreen, of New York City, and advanced the values greatly.

Both importers asked for another appraisal, which was made by Gen. Hunt, of the United States board of General Appraisers, and Surveyor Hines's decision was confirmed. The case was then taken to the court, where it was found that it had a false bottom, which, upon being opened, revealed about $100,000 worth of goods that were not invoiced. They were destroyed.

TWO COLLEGES WIPED OUT.

Dr. O'Reilly, Who Ran Them, Is Under "the Heel of a Trust."

THERE WAS VERY LITTLE TO THEM EXCEPT BIG NAMES.

The Charters of the College of Midwifery of the City of New York and the College of Massage Revoked—No Complaint Made Against Either Concern—Both Occupied the Same Room in West Fifty-ninth Street.

Two colleges in this city went out of existence yesterday, and several other institutions are threatened with extinction. These are represented by Dr. James O'Reilly, who considers himself a much injured man, ground down under what he describes as "the heel of a trust." For several years Dr. O'Reilly has been running several medical schools at No. 247 West Fifty-ninth street. He did not grind out medical students in six weeks according to the Philadelphia method, and the character of the education which he imparted to his pupils has not been brought into question, but now he says that the heel of the trust which has extinguished his colleges is represented by "the heavy hand of the law," and he is sore in spirit and full of anguish.

The cause of all this is the action of the Regents of the University of the State of New York in revoking the charters of the College of Midwifery of the City of New York and of the College of Massage. These are two of Dr. O'Reilly's colleges, having their abode in the same room at No. 247 West Fifty-ninth street. The cause seems to be a veritable pest of medical institutions, for there are in addition the Institute of Medical Science, the Nurses' Training School, the New York Sanitarium Hospital, and until recently the Woman's Infirmary and Maternity Home. And it is a quiet, ordinary-sized house at that.

Of all these, with the exception of the New York Sanitarium Hospital, Dr. O'Reilly seems to have been the head, and he has more or less connection with that institution. The Regents have put an end to his two little colleges because of a law passed last winter. As explained by Dr. O'Reilly to a World reporter yesterday, that law prohibited the use of the name "college" by any institution not endowed with $500,000.

"If I had half a million dollars do you suppose," answered the doctor, "I would be running a couple of tuppenny penny colleges?"

"What are you going to do now?" "I have applied to the Regents," said he, "for a charter to continue the two colleges as 'schools.' I have asked for the necessary blanks. The law was aimed at preventing the issue of degrees by institutions not properly endowed. But we never issued degrees here to those who took our course of study and graduated as midwives and masseuses. We simply gave them a diploma as 'Graduate in Midwifery' or as 'Graduate in Massage,' and neither of these terms has ever been recognized as a degree by any institution of learning."

The first that Dr. O'Reilly heard of any impending disaster was late in May, when he received a letter from Secretary Devey, of the Regents, saying that, in accordance with the law passed last winter, the Regents, at their meeting on Wednesday, would consider the revocation of the charters of the two colleges. These charters had been regularly granted, as provided by law, and there never had been any complaint against the institutions.

In his answer to this letter Dr. O'Reilly explained the high-sounding title of the New York Institute of Medical Science as follows: "It has never been organized either as a corporation or as a school, but as a private institution. It is a body, has never taught any science, and has never issued any diploma. It is a body, has never taught any science, and has never issued any diploma. It is a body, has never taught any science, and has never issued any diploma."

Dr. O'Reilly now announces that the institutions will go the way of his two colleges and be extinguished, but he hopes that it will continue its usefulness under some other name. The Board of Trustees of the three institutions, in addition to Dr. O'Reilly, included James A. Baird, Jacob Martin, Thomas L. O'Reilly, Philip Magin and Peter Sweeney. Dr. O'Reilly rented the basement of the house for his various institutions. The rest of the house is occupied by the New York Sanitarium Hospital. Of this Dr. John J. Seville is the Medical Director, but during a riotous place was taken last night by Dr. O'Reilly. The Sanitarium Hospital is not affected by the action of the Regents.

Dr. O'Reilly said that the College of Massage had usually about twenty pupils per year, and the College of Midwifery from seventy to eighty. He showed a copy of the book published by the institution, which is a neat little volume of 300 pages, giving the

MRS. CLEVELAND AT GRAY GABLES.

She and Her Daughter Right Happy in Their Summer Home.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., June 22.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland and her daughter Ruth arrived at Gray Gables to-day. They came on the steam yacht Onida.

The voyage from New York was uneventful. Although little knots do not look so robust as when they were in the city, the bracing air of old Buzzard's Bay will bring back strength and vigor.

The Cleveland home was in entire readiness to receive Mrs. Cleveland and Miss Ruth, everything being arranged for their comfort. Mrs. Cleveland is in excellent health. Her supreme pleasure at being back among the scenes of her former happy days was evident.

The bluefish and bass have struck in and the fishermen, who have not yet had much success, are impatiently awaiting the arrival of the President with his luck.

THE CANNED FRUIT WAS WHISKEY.

Four Pints of Rye Smuggled in to Con vict Lamb at Sing Sing.

SING SING, N. Y., June 22.—Every two months the convicts in Sing Sing Prison are allowed to receive from their friends sweetmeats or canned fruit. Yesterday a box was received for John Lamb, a convict. In every box that Lamb received heretofore were cans of fruit. It was found that Lamb was so drunk in his cell that he could not go to work and Warden Durston investigated the matter. He found that the cans supposed to contain fruit had been cleverly opened, and the rye taken out and the cans refilled with whisky. When Lamb took the cans to his cell he had a good spree, unknown to the guards. Two other cans were in his cell and when they were opened they each contained a pint of whisky. They were confiscated. Hereafter convicts will not be allowed to receive canned fruit from their friends. Lamb was placed in the dark cell for breaking the rules of the prison.

MRS. ROBERTS IS DEAD.

She Was the Mistress of a Famous Old Road-House in Harlem.

Robert's famous old road-house, at Our Hundred and Tenth street and Lenox avenue, is without a mistress. Five months ago, when old "Sport" Roberts died, his widow assumed control of the place, retaining the "Commodore," an old employee, as manager. Early yesterday morning the widow was found dying in her bed. She had retired in a particularly cheerful mood the night before. Dr. Finckh, who lay near her, was called in, but Mrs. Roberts expired before his arrival. It is thought that death was due to Bright's disease or heart failure.
